INTRODUCTION

The Sealfast assortment consists of two lines of ceiling suspension systems: the Nonius system and the Quick Suspension system. The Nonius system is mainly used for sites requiring a rigid ceiling suspension while the Quick Suspension system is used for light and mineral ceiling suspension.

Nonius system

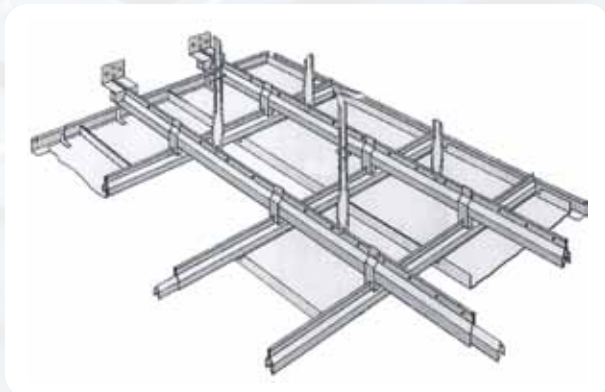

The Nonius system consists of separate top and bottom parts. These parts are joined by means of a Nonius nail or hairpin spring. The various bottom parts of the Nonius system enable the suspension for a number of ceiling profiles and grids.

Quick Suspension system

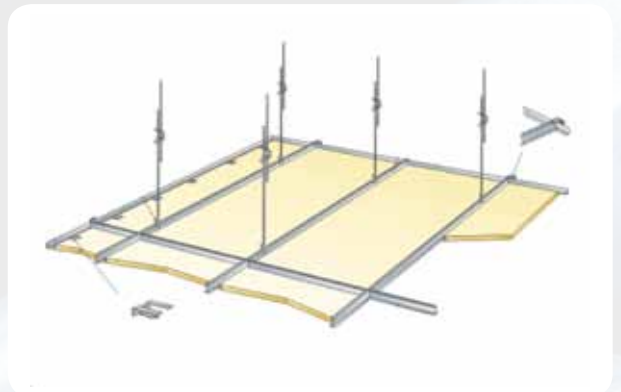

The Quick Suspension system consists of separate top and bottom wires. These are joined by means of a fast gripping spring. The quick suspension wires are available with a hook or a eye in various lengths. All combinations in lengths are possible with a maximum of 400 cm per wire length. The wires are galvanized and the springs offer higher corrosion resistance by means of Delta Tone surface treatment.

System 2000

System 2000 is a unique, exclusive Quick Suspension system and can be used in most applications where the standard Quick Suspension systems are used. The unique design of the hook protects the ceiling plates and avoids damage. The exclusive design saves time while there is no need to manually close the hooks like the traditional Quick Suspension system.
